

Human Sciences Encounters in Phnom-Penh: Researchers Profiles:WIJERS Gina

Gina Wijers

After spending two years in Cambodia as a strategy- and management advisor to the Ministry of Environment, Gea Wijers (1972) is now working on her PhD research inquiring into Cambodian returnees as institutional entrepreneurs. She is part of the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam' Centre for Comparative Social Science (CCSS). Her research is part of an integrated programme entitled: "Competing hegemony. Foreign dominated processes of development in Cambodia" funded by the Netherlands Organization for Social Research' (NWO) Science for Global Development department (WOTRO). This programme's strategy is based on the practice of building capacity in Cambodian higher education in a partnership between the Faculty of Social Sciences of the VU University Amsterdam, the Royal University of Phnom Penh (RUPP) and Pannassastra University in Phnom Penh, Cambodia.

Gina Wijers' HSHH presentation in 2010

Gea Wijers' HSHH presentation in October 2011: The reception of Cambodian refugees in France

To contact Gea Wijers, send us a request, we will forward.